Hi ,

It's official, Insum survived its teens.

Yes, it's true! This month, we turned 20, and although those of you in the US still can't buy us a beer, we hope you'll help us celebrate this important milestone. And as for the rest of you, won't you join us in a cheers? 🍷

Cheers to our team, our clients, our partners, and the #orclapex community that we have been a part of for the better part of two decades. We owe our success to you, so THANK YOU!

In today's edition

- Feature: We've turned twenty, and that's no small feat! We're beyond proud to celebrate this significant milestone, and are grateful to our team and partners that shared their wishes in our celebratory video.

- APEX Tips: A tip from Elisabeth J. Ashley on how to set specific cells of Interactive Grids to read-only. Louis Moreaux has a series on CKEditor Image Upload, and Plamen Mushkov shows us how to create a Chat region.
 - News: Things that caught our attention in the Oracle APEX community.
 - Shows: See what's coming up on Insum's YouTube channel.

We've turned 20!

To understand how we got this far, we asked our founders and members of the team about the secret of our success. We share their stories in a blog series celebrating this milestone. The first blog is about our culture. Without it, we would never have made it this far.

APEX Tips

Make specific IG cells read-only

Insum consultant Elisabeth J. Ashley shows us how to set specific cells of interactive grids to read-only. Read more.

A chat region for your APEX application

Did you ever need a chat region for your Oracle APEX application? There is actually a Classic Report Comments template that gets you almost there.

Insum consultant Plamen Mushkov (👉 follow on Twitter!) shows you how to get it perfect.
